

Brief Description of the Program

Career

Modern geography is a science of explanatory, predictive and constructive type, aimed at solving specific practical problems, therefore geographers, in addition to their subject, must know the basics of all fundamental sciences and have at their disposal a wide range of means and methods to achieve this goal.

Future professions of graduates who have completed the master's degree program are associated with:

- research of natural, anthropogenic, natural-economic, ecological-economic, industrial, social, recreational, public territorial systems and structures at global, national, regional and local levels;
- state territorial planning, design and forecasting of urban systems;
- comprehensive geographical expertise of all forms of economic activity;
- environmental, socio-economic and statistical monitoring;
- targeted programs of socio-economic development, including sustainable development;
- migration and ethnocultural processes;
- objects of natural and cultural heritage, tourism;
- education, enlightenment and public health.

Educational process

The peculiarities of the educational process contribute to the formation of specialists with broad geopolitical thinking, systemic knowledge of the socio-economic patterns of development of regions and states in general, economic and geographical principles of territorial organization of the economy and society, and the foundations of sustainable development.

You will be taught the basics of design, expert analysis and the implementation of comprehensive and sectoral geographic research at global, national, regional and local levels using modern approaches and methods.

Master's theses of graduate students reflect the scientific ideas that exist and arise in the course of mastering the program.

Disciplines

- ✓ Geographical Culture
- ✓ Demographic and Migration Processes in Different Regions of the World
- ✓ Current Problems of Geography
- ✓ Territorial Organization of State Socio-Economic Systems
- ✓ Economic and Geographical Expertise
- ✓ Ethnocultural Regions of the World
- ✓ Geopolitics and Political Geography
- ✓ Innovative Dynamics of the World Economy
- ✓ History, Theory and Methodology of Geography
- ✓ Socio-economic System of the Central Chernozem Region and the Tambov Region

Practical training

The distinctive feature of the educational process of the area of training 05.04.02 Geography is that it has a significant number of hours of practical training provided by the curriculum. Students do their practical trainings at leading enterprises, organizations and public institutions of the city of Tambov, the Tambov region and beyond. Great attention is paid to the organization of practical trainings, since it is one of the most important components of the program.

Career

Graduates who have completed the master's degree program can work in scientific and research organizations, design, surveying, production and economic, marketing, analytical, expert, consulting and logistics departments, centers or bureaus, federal and regional environment protection and environment management agencies, as well as educational institutions.